Hydrocarbon Exploration & Production Activities

INDIA : 2014-15
At the time of joining DGH, I realized that the management of Production Sharing Contracts and Arbitration and Legal cases had been keeping our able manpower at DGH away from the real mandate of promoting sound management of the Indian Hydrocarbon Resources. It, therefore, propelled me to take immediate actions to facilitate and strengthen the technical portfolio of DGH, while continuing with the other activities. Adequacy of appropriate resources is imminent for timely achievement of targets and for optimal utilization of all the technical software available at DGH. Software and licenses were updated and renewed; a dedicated team was identified and deployed to carry out the technical work. To efficiently track the ongoing day-to-day activities and ever changing status of the blocks/fields, a Management Information System (MIS) has been implemented at DGH wherein E&P information is being systematically and expeditiously updated on an online portal, thus providing a reliable and readily available information to be used by various sections across and out of DGH.

Monitoring of E&P activities in India by DGH is driven by the Production Sharing Contracts which has water tight compartments as far as the timelines are concerned. Provisions had been made by Government for the timeline extensions within exploration phase in 2006. It was our constant endeavor to provide flexibility in the development phase timelines such as submission of Appraisal Plan, DOC, FDP etc. and other activities such as exploring the new hydrocarbon pool within the development areas during appraisal/ development. It was observed that decisions were pending in many cases with respect to the stringent timelines. The cases were also pending for decision for years where clearances were not accorded in the contracts by the different agencies. DGH made all out efforts in identifying such issues for a proper resolution. Policy decision has been taken by CCEA on nine such issues and about forty long pending cases have been resolved so far. Similarly, the issue of testing requirement (DST) has also been resolved after a long period and decision has been communicated to concerned Operators. This will enable monetization of twelve deepwater discoveries.

Talking of the deliverables in the FY 2014-15; sincere efforts have been made in view of the criticality of timely approval of the yearly Work Program and Budget (WP&B) by Management Committee (MC) and as a result, it is heartening to share that MC meetings have been conducted in all applicable blocks before 31st March, 2015 and approval WP & Budget for the year 2015-16 has been accorded. It is also noteworthy that the number of pending cases with DGH that were left unattended for a long time have reduced considerably, owing to rigorous actions and follow-ups by DGH.

The progress of National Data Repository (NDR) Project is remarkable and is currently being aggressively expedited in DGH premises. The mechanical set-up of the project is complete and data loading is in progress. Entire country’s E&P data will be uploaded in NDR so that any interested party from around the globe can have access to these data and show interest to invest in India.

After about 2 decades, a fresh assessment has been steered through ONGC to assess the hydrocarbon potential of the entire 26 basins of India. Also steps are in progress to appraise un-appraised areas which is precisely about 50% of the total sedimentary area of the country. All the onshore areas shall be covered by 2D Seismic Survey within a time span of 5 years through ONGC & OIL. The offshore areas shall be covered under “Multi-client non-exclusive” survey – through which parties from across the globe may carry out seismic surveys at their cost and sell seismic data to the potential investors while submitting only a license fee and data set to the Government. Seismic parties shall commence operations immediately post-monsoon. Preparation of data docketts for the fields to be offered under ‘Marginal Field Exploration Policy’ is at the verge of completion at DGH.

The Production Sharing Contacts regime has been introduced in our country since more than 2 decades, but two key technical issues are yet to be addressed - codification of Good International Petroleum Industry Practices and Site Restoration Policy. Both of these policies are being formulated with the help of a Standing Committee consisting of members from Industry and Government.

Another milestone in terms of our foray into Alternate Energy is the Second Expedition of Gas Hydrates in Indian Offshore that has commenced since 4th March 2015, where a Japanese drillship ‘CHIKYU’ has been commissioned to collect Gas Hydrate samples and related information thereof in Deep waters of Krishna Godavari and Mahanadi basins in presence of DGH/ONGC personnel. Based on preliminary interpretation out of the 12 wells completed by March 2015, 8 wells have indicated the presence of Gas Hydrates. Progress in exploration and development activities of Shale Gas and Coal Bed Methane (CBM) resources has been commendable and the outlook is positive.

To summarize, it has been immensely satisfying that together as a team, DGH has been able to identify and mobilize the resources required to enhance our capabilities ahead in such diverse technical projects taken up by the Government in the best interest of the E&P sector of our country. I thank and congratulate my team for its continuous endeavor in providing enriching contributions in the service of the nation and hope that synergistically, we progress toward our ultimate vision of Hydrocarbon self-sufficiency in the country.

DGH Annual publication ‘Hydrocarbon Exploration and Production Activities, 2014-15’ summarizes the entire gamut of E&P operations carried out in India and achievements made in this sector in 2014-15. I thank Ministry of Petroleum and Natural Gas whose encouraging support and guidance have let us discharge our duties effectively and expeditiously. I am confident that all the current and prospective stakeholders in E&P sector in India shall find this compendium useful and informative.

Synopsis of E&P Activities till 2014-15
After implementation of New Exploration Licensing Policy (NELP) and Coal Bed Methane (CBM) Policy by Government of India, the requisite thrust was rendered to Exploration and Production sector in India. These policies enabled a level playing field to the Private investors by providing them the same fiscal and contractual terms as was provided to National Oil Companies (NOCs) for the offered exploration acreage.

Exploratory Efforts By PSUs/Pvt./Foreign Cos.
5.2. Oil & Gas production data:

Exploration and Production sector has been opened up after implementation of New Exploration Licensing Policy (NELP) and Coal Bed Methane (CBM) Policy. These policies provide a level playing field to the private investors by giving the same fiscal and contract terms as applicable to National Oil Companies (NOCs) for the offered exploration acreage. Since the implementation of NELP, the Oil and natural gas production till 2014-15 in blocks under PSC regime is given in table below:

The crude oil and natural gas production is from seven sedimentary basins of the country which are - Rajasthan, Assam-Arakan, Assam Shelf Basin, Cambay, Cauvery, Krishna-Godavari and Mumbai. The trend in production of crude oil during the period 2005-06 to 2014-15 along with the growth over the previous year is highlighted in the graph below. Over the years, the contribution of oil coming from onshore has increased from 101 TMT in 2005-06 to 9056 TMT in 2014-15 which is mainly attributed to production from Rajasthan Basin.
The trend in production of natural gas during the period 2005-06 to 2014-15 along with the growth over the previous year is highlighted in the graph below. In 2005-06, gas production was 7,358 MMSCM which by 2014-15 reached to 8,912 MMSCM and major chunk of gas production is coming from offshore blocks. However, there was major growth in gas production (172%) in 2009-10 which is mainly attributed to the production coming from offshore block in Krishna Godavari Basin. Also, the incidental gas production from CBM blocks started in 2008-09.
